President's Letter

Hello My Painting Friends,

Spring has sprung! It's wonderful to see all the flowers coming up and trees beginning to bud. I'm trying to figure out how to spend as much time outside on the non-windy days and still finish all of my painting projects. As soon as I cleaned all the brushes and put away supplies from Sail Away, it was time to pull out watercolor supplies and prepare for a painting day with 7 kids and a few adults at my church. Yes, me, leading a 2-hour class. Cutting watercolor paper, picking up more paint tubes, copying instructions, double-checking that I had everything needed and packed to leave. The class was a little hair-raising for me, and I ran around the table mopping up water that was everywhere, blotting bloopers, pulling hands and sleeves out of paint, and trying to keep them focused. Suddenly, it was class photo time with everyone holding their sort of finished project and smiling, and then they were gone. Phew! The next day I found out that the parents reported that the kids had a good time and now the moms want to come in and paint too! Well, yeah, that's what happens when you hand someone a brush, paint, and some instruction, and why we all need to be out there sharing our decorative painting skills and keeping our art form thriving!!

So why is this at all interesting? Well, it made me appreciate even more every moment of preparation that our teachers have done to make our classes, paint-ins, seminars, Sail Away blossom and succeed! Hail all the teachers!! You make it look so easy, and we love you all. Note: I, however, had the parent and the teacher in my class and at times, apparently, they were bent over double trying to smother their laughter at all my anxiety-driven commentary. The teacher said I had given her enough material for her next stand-up comedy show! Hahaha.

March saw Debbie Reeder teaching once again at our meeting. It was great to have the room filled with painters and Deb demonstrating techniques. February's painting class was taught by Kathy Anthony and was much enjoyed as well. Thanks to both Deb and Kathy for teaching. Sail Away, the painting weekend away, was such a success! Thanks to JoAnn Wheeler and Jen Bearce, our co-chairs, for outstanding work getting us there and done, and thanks to Paula Taylor for handling registration incredibly well! Thanks also to Robin Pohlman for coordinating teachers and project selection, without whom we'd have no Sail Away. Thanks to everyone who chaired a part of this event or contributed time, effort, auction items, or cheer to help make the classes, banquet and auction a real success. Once again, Hail to our teachers! They came a distance to join us and we appreciate all the work that went into planning and carrying out their classes.

Our club has many more exciting projects ahead, so check out all the details in this newsletter and plan to paint with us!

Paint happy,
Judy

I am continuing with the series to introduce members to each other. This month, I present Sue Weber, our newest member. Many of you met Sue at Sail Away. She was the last one to register and we are glad she did.

How did you become interested in Decorative painting? I was fortunate enough to see some of Linda Miller's work and I like it very much. So, I thought someday, I will have to give it a try. Linda shared details about the club with me and invited me to come to Sail Away.

What did you like best about Sail Away? I thought the attendees were just great. Everyone was very friendly and welcoming. The classes were very interesting and great fun! I found it fascinating to walk around the classroom and see how one project could end up having so many variations. Everyone offered to help everyone. The convention was great from start to finish!

Do you have any other hobbies besides painting? I am very involved with the Rotary Club of Annapolis. I am also a residential Real Estate Agent. So, when I have free time, I am painting or crafting.

Anything else you'd like to tell us about yourself?

In December of 2019, I received a Christmas gift that has changed my life. My husband gave me a gift certificate to some painting classes. I was able to attend a few classes and then COVID came upon us, so I started crafting. With the positive feedback that I received from friends and family, I started up a little craft business called Pirates Treasure Art. From April through December, I have a booth at local craft fairs in the Annapolis area. I also find time to travel. This year I am going to the Netherlands, the US Western state parks, Italy and St Lucia. In the Fall, you will find my husband and me cheering on the NAVY football team. I have one son who is planning to pursue his passion to get his doctorate in Physical Therapy. We have two golden retrievers, Chessie and Cody. The one constant in my life - you will always find paint or dog hair on me somewhere. My new goal, to study and learn about shadowing and floating. Then one day, I will pay it forward and share the techniques with a newbie. (Thank you, Judy!).

Next month, I'd like to interview someone who was a part of forming the former Chapter of the SDP. Let me know if you were part of that process.

Happy painting,
Paula Taylor

Thank you to Kathy Anthony for teaching Flip Flop Fiesta at our February meeting and Debbie Reeder for teaching "Daisies and Dragonfly" at our March Meeting.

Club Projects:

Our April 8 class, "A Peaceful View" with Michelle Pollhein, will be at the Linthicum library.

Our May 13 class, "Tulip Batik" with Alice Dudley will be at the Severn Library located at 2624 Annapolis Road (Route 175), Severn, MD 21444. This is the same library we used for Jeni Bearce's Snowman Ornament Class. It is tucked away in the Severn Square Shopping Center.

Please keep in mind the dates for June through December are tentative until I can schedule the library, with the exception of our September meeting which will be held at the Laurel Presbyterian Church. Michelle Pollhein has volunteered to teach our memory box class.

Once the library is scheduled for the remaining events, I will send out the registration information with the date and location and the Calendar of Events will be updated on our website. Our newsletter will reflect the current info as well.

Remember to use your $10.00 voucher towards one of our club projects. Also as a reminder, if you cancel your registration after the deadline date, you will not receive a refund. The teacher will provide you with the pattern and any other embellishments included in the material fee.

Paint-Ins:

We have three paint-in projects for this year. I have scheduled two of the three. The projects are:

"Hang Your Stocking" and matching ornament - taught by Debbie Reeder, designed by Maxine Thomas

April 22, 2023, Linthicum Library (registration deadline is April 8, 2023)

"Kindness" - taught by Michelle Pollhein, designed by Laure Paillex

July 29, 2023, Location TBD

Four Season Welcome Gnome Sign - taught and designed by our very own Jeni Bearce

Fall 2023

Mark Menendez Seminar: On hold.

Happy Painting!

Robin

Upcoming Raffle

Start saving your pennies!

This beautiful, quilted lap throw was handmade by Kathy Anthony and donated for auction to defer next year's Sail Away costs. Raffle tickets will go on sale in September and will be sold each Club meeting from September to January. The drawing will be held at our Birthday luncheon in January 2024.

Sail Away 2023 Success

We were all hopeful that we'd have a 3-day painting event this year, and thanks to our co-chairs, volunteers, teachers and participants, "Sail Away 2023" came off wonderfully and was a great success!

The new venue and staff were great. They'd never hosted a group like ours before, and ran out to get huge buckets for our painting needs. Because of hotel construction, we were upgraded to the Conference Center for our classes, and the lighting in the rooms was perfect. All the guest rooms had a kitchenette and a great view of the ocean and sunrise each morning. We were also able to order boxed lunches for Friday and Saturday.

We welcomed five new attendees – Trina B., Michelle H., Donna N., Marty Q., and Sue W. – and were so pleased they were able to join us. Thursday night's activities included dinner and an introduction to Art Journaling led by JoAnn Wheeler and Judy Feldt, to encourage regular creative art to help relax and de-stress. It will be fun to see what people are adding to their journals, so we hope you bring them to our club meetings! Carole Shuey won the 'Decorate a Jar' contest, as one of four creative and well-done submissions. Thank you to those who joined in this activity.

Painting classes were held Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. The painting projects this year were beautiful as always, and everyone seemed to have a great time painting them. Returning teachers included Barbara Boardman, Barbara Hoage, Michelle Pollhein, Ann Hall, Alice Dudley, and Nancy Hilleary. New teacher this year was Robin Benjies! The teachers all did a great job teaching projects, many of them of their own design. We hope everyone will share pictures of their finished pieces. You can email them to Kathy Anthony, JoAnn Wheeler, and/or Barb Hoage to include on the website, the Facebook page and the newsletter.

The banquet was a success and was a great time to spend together eating and socializing. Thanks to the many creative committee members who painted the centerpieces and table favors - they were beautiful. The auction was full of interesting artwork, and everyone who won pieces were very excited. We had a lot of laughs that night that new attendees joined right in on. Thanks to all those that donated items to the auction making it so successful.

Many thanks to all our committee chairs, volunteers, teachers, JoAnn Wheeler, Paula Taylor, Judy Feldt and Jen Bearce for all their hard work to make this possible and especially all those that attended this year. We could not have a Sail Away without participants and volunteers. We look forward to next year's Sail Away and would love to see even more participants enjoying time painting together.

We need a new Sail Away Chair for next year. We're picking the date now so please let Judy Feldt know that you'll help chair or be a committee member.

Until next year,

Jen Bearce, Sail Away 2023 Co-Chair

— REMINDER —

If you haven't already done so, please remember to complete your Sail Away Evaluations! We rely on this feedback to make sure Sail Away is a success!

CLUB MEETING

March 4 , 2023

Meeting Called to Order at: 10:32 am

No additions or corrections to the February meeting minutes. Minutes approved.

President's Report: No update.

Treasurer's Report: Linda Walls

Current Balance: $ 17,271.64

This includes deposits for Sail Away, but the expenses have not yet been disbursed.

Membership: Paula Taylor

We have 2 new members: Paige and a friend of Linda M's, Sue, joined. Total members at 57, now. Paula is working on a new membership list for after Sail Away.

Joann W. celebrated her 47th wedding anniversary this week.

Paige turns 18 this month.

Jen B.'s niece had a beautiful baby girl.

Michelle P.'s sister had her first cast for her prosthetic this week and that went well.

Carole S. has a new great granddaughter, Gabriella Ray.

Paula has nametag inserts here today. If you don't have the case for it, please see Paula. She has extras here today.

There will be several new people joining us at Sail Away this year.

Programs: Robin Pohlman

All the projects for the year are on display here today. Everything is scheduled except one paint-in project.

Thank you to Kathy Anthony for teaching 'Flip Flop Fiesta' last month, and to Debbie for teaching today.

Michelle Pollhein is teaching the poinsettia in April, and Deb will be doing a paint-in in April as well. The deadline is tight for both because they are prepped surfaces.

Alice Dudley is teaching in May, and Robin will be able to reserve the library for that soon.

Linda Miller is teaching the eggshell pendant in June. The eggshells can be from either raw or boiled eggs. Linda will plan for more than one pendant per person.

Linda said that, at the senior center, they incorporate eggshells in their paintings in other ways, such as landscapes or starfish.

Newsletter: Barb

March 15 is the next deadline.

Committee Reports:

Sail Away: Joann Wheeler

We are ready. The food is ordered. Bill was received, scrutinized, revised and sent to Linda W. to cut a check. The bar will be open for only one hour during the banquet, to save on cost. Check in is at 4 pm. We will have to turn our clocks ahead on Saturday night, so don't forget. There are 35 for the banquet. There's a parade scheduled for St. Patrick's Day on Saturday, so traffic may be a bit tied up in the afternoon. Joann will check on whether teachers can give chocolates out. Coffee made in the room is ok, but bring a travel mug for it.

All the tent cards are made for meals for social and banquet. Labels are made for lunches. T-shirts will be picked up by Erin on Friday. Paula will be taking them to Sail Away. Judy is bringing all of the tablecloths, projectors, etc. for classrooms. Joann bringing more tape and trashbags. Judy and Joann are ready and have their supplies for our surprise social art activity. Folders are done as well as name tags. Joann will bring name tags and put them in the folder when we get there Wednesday. Class evaluations are ready and Jeni is bringing a box for them. Joann has painted a tray for a gift to Jamie at the Hotel as a thank you. She has a card for Judy to sign from our club.

Sunshine: Linda Miller

Linda sent a card to Kay Brown, who had a rough time with Covid and pneumonia recently.

Ways and Means: Joann Wheeler

There will be a raffle starting in September. Kathy A. donated a beautiful quilt to help offset Sail Away costs. The winner will be drawn at the Birthday Luncheon next year. A photo of the quilt will be in the next newsletter.

Memory Boxes:

Michelle Pollhein volunteered to teach the project for the September meeting, which will be at Carole S.'s church, Laurel Presbyterian. Will have a pot luck lunch that day, also.

Community Service: Carole Shuey

We will collect donations in April for LARS.

Publicity:

Alice Dudley needs the logo to put in the display case at the Linthicum library in June and October. She is doing business cards for contacting our club for information. Robin P. will include the fall club projects in the case. We will let people know that beginner classes are available.

Jen Bearce suggested that it would be nice to welcome new members in the newsletter. Barb H. said she can print whatever Paula gives her to include for this.

There was some discussion about teaching beginner classes. Jen B. said she could offer this. Michelle P. said that she takes staged photos of her paintings, which would help a beginner. Deb R. mentioned that Lisbeth Stull is offering beginner classes, two for $10.

Birthday Luncheon: Linda Miller

We are looking at options for other venues for next year. If you have a suggestion, please let Linda know. Alice D. suggested the Elks Club on Truckhouse Road in Severna Park. Perry's in Odenton was suggested by Robin P. as a possibility, also.

Old Business:

Website update: Kathy A. said John Triplett has changed all 'chapters' to 'club'. He has additional information to post, as well.

New Business:

Paula T. has sent out the new club membership list. If anyone has a change for her, let her know.

Show-and-Tell:

Michelle P. and Carole S. brought cards to show that she had made. Kathy A. gave out Covid test kits that she'd gotten in the mail. Barb H. showed her recent watercolor efforts.

The Club meeting was adjourned at 11:20 am.
